Those living in the world today cannot escape, in their lifetimes, two major problems, the struggle between two ideologies, the individual versus the state, and in our own land, the struggle between materialism and the good life," Dr. Millard E. Gladfelter, professor at Temple university, Philadelphia, declared in an address Thursday afternoon at the 40th anniversary meeting of the Woman's General League of Gettysburg college, in Bräu chapel.

"There was a time when our forebears could load all their belongings into a wagon and cross the prairies, leaving all their problems behind," the speaker continued. "You cannot escape your problems anymore. We must accept that as the setting we are in and face our problems."

Sleet and Cold Rain Here As Winter Nears

Sleet, light rain and 35-degree weather came to Adams county early this morning while much of the nation got its first taste of winter cold and snow.

There was lots of snow—in the northeast, in the midwest, the Rocky mountain region, and even in Texas. Falls in some areas were the heaviest on record for so early in the season.

Freezing rains added to the discomfort and made motor travel hazardous in many areas. Strong winds and sub-freezing and sub-zero temperatures belied the date. Winter season's official start is seven weeks away. It was 29 below zero today at Glacier National park.

The cold weather was extensive—from the Rockies to the New England states and south into Texas. Not much warming was in prospect immediately. Blizzard warnings were issued last night by the weather bureau to motorists and stockmen in northeastern New Mexico.

First Hunting Victim Will Be Buried In New Oxford Saturday Morning; Will Not Hold Inquest

Funeral services for Burnell Joseph Smith, 10-year-old New Oxford altar boy and fifth grade student, who was fatally shot at 1:20 o'clock Thursday afternoon while hunting northeast of New Chester, will be held Saturday morning.

The services will include brief rites at the Fred F. The Rev. Fr. Robert D. Hartnett will be the celebrant of the mass. Interment will be made in the church cemetery.

Will Not Hold Inquest

Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, said that death occurred instantly. The shotgun pellets riddled the arm and back of the child, penetrating the left side of the chest, the doctor added. He said death was due to an accident and that no inquest will be held.

The ten-year-old boy, his father, James Arnold Smith, 38, of 213 West High street, New Oxford; an uncle, Andrew Smith, 36, Water street, New Oxford; another uncle, Mahlon Smith, 32; a brother, a cousin and two other boys had gone to the farm of Mahlon Smith, two miles northeast of New Chester, to hunt rabbits.

State police said the hunting party, besides the father and two uncles of the dead boy, included his brother, James Smith, 12; a cousin, Alfred Smith, 10, son of Andrew Smith; Jack Polst, 10, and Douglas Hockensmith, 7, of New Oxford.

Boys Flushed Game

State police said the hunters were proceeding in a line across a field, with the youngsters in the center, to "kick out" the rabbits. It was a school holiday. Burnell, according to state police, had lagged behind. The hunters "flushed" a rabbit, but instead in front of them, it ran the other way.

The uncle, Andrew Smith, did not see Burnell, who was stooped over and partially hidden by the brush, and fired at the rabbit, police said. Pellets from the 12-gauge shotgun, loaded with a super-x charge and No. 4 shot, penetrated the back, left side of the chest and left side and arm. Police said the boy's father also fired, but from a different angle, and his shot did not strike Burnell.

Heard One Cry

The hunters heard one cry or moan from the wounded youth, but police said that death was almost instantaneous. The father told Coroner Crist that the child did not move after he picked him up and carried him to a car to rush him to the Hanover hospital.

A native of Adams county, the child was a member of St. Mary's church of New Oxford and a student at the parochial school there.

Surviving are his father; his mother, Mrs. Edgar Sell, Silver Run, Md.; a brother, J. Arnold Smith, Jr., at home; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, New Oxford, and his maternal grandfather, John Hockensmith, New Oxford R. D. #

Friends may call at the Feiser funeral home this evening after 7 o'clock. Prayers will be said at the church this evening at 7 o'clock.

PRO BASKETBALL REFEREE FACES BRIBERY CHARGE

By TED MEIER

New York, Nov. 2 (P) — A basketball referee was accused today of taking $3,000 in bribes to help fix three professional games in November a year ago.

Sol Levy, 41, of Brooklyn, listed as a full-time official for the National Basketball Association, the country's major professional cage circuit, was booked on a charge of bribery at 3:35 a.m. (EST). He had been questioned for several hours.

Thus the basketball gambling scandal, disclosed in college games last January has implicated an official for the first time as well as drawing in the professional side of the sport.

32 Involved

Altogether 32 players from seven schools, CCNY, Long Island, NYU, Manhattan, Bradley, Toledo and Kentucky, were involved before Levy's arrest.

"I didn't do anything," Levy declared at the Elizabeth street police station where he was booked.

Police said the specific charge against Levy accused him of soliciting and accepting $1,000 to use his influence to shave Boston's points in the Boston Celtics-Washington Capitals game at Washington November 11, 1950. Boston won the game, 78-77.

District Attorney Frank Hogan said Levy was involved in two other NBA games last November: the Boston-Indianapolis game at Boston November 12, 1950, and the Syracuse-Nets-New York Knickerbockers game at Syracuse, November 19.

Boston won the November 12 game, 78-75, and Syracuse the November 19, 79-73.

Was To Call Fans

Hogan said Levy was supposed to call personal fouls and other rule infractions such as running with the ball in favor of the team supposed to win over or under the point spread. The district attorney pointed out 70 personal fouls were called in the Syracuse-New York game. Of these, 46 were against New York and 29 against Syracuse.

Levy, an assistant coach under Star Bee at Long Island nine years ago, puffed a cigar and appeared calm while he was booked. Vincent A. G. O'Connor, assistant district attorney, said Levy made "certain admissions" during seven hours of questioning.

O'Connor said Levy had been associated with Salvatore Solazzo, concession keeper of college games, and Edward Gard, former Long Island university star and one of the 32 persons implicated. The Levy defense came a few hours after the NBA had opened its 1951-52 season with games at Rochester and Syracuse. Washington is not in the league this year.

PRO BASKETBALL REFEREE FACES BRIBERY CHARGE

By TED MEIER

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—A basketball referee was accused today of taking $3,000 in bribes to help fix three professional games in November.

Sol Levy, 41, of Brooklyn, listed as a full-time official for the National Basketball Association, the country's major professional cage circuit, was booked on a charge of bribery at 3:35 a.m. (EST). He had been questioned for several hours.

Thus the basketball gambling scandal, disclosed in college games last January, has implicated an official for the first time as well as drawing in the professional side of the sport.

32 Involved

Altogether 32 players from seven schools, CCNY, Long Island, NYU, Manhattan, Bradley, Toledo and Kentucky, were involved before Levy's arrest.

"I didn't do anything," Levy declared at the Elizabeth street police station where he was booked.

Police said the specific charge against Levy accused him of soliciting and accepting $1,000 to use his influence to shave Boston's points in the Boston Celtics-Washington Capitals' game at Washington November 11, 1950. Boston won the game, 78-77.

District Attorney Frank Hogan said Levy was involved in two other NBA games last November: the Boston-Indianapolis game at Boston November 12, 1950, and the Syracuse-Nets-New York Knickerbockers' game at Syracuse, November 19, 1950. Boston won the November 12 game, 78-75, and Syracuse the November 19 tilt, 97-83.

Was To Call Fouls

Hogan said Levy was supposed to call personal fouls and other rule infractions, such as running with the ball, in favor of the team supposed to win over or under the point spread. The district attorney pointed out 75 personal fouls were called in the Syracuse-New York game. Of these, 46 were against New York and 29 against Syracuse.

Levy, an assistant coach under Clair Bee at Long Island nine years ago, puffed a cigar and appeared calm when he was booked. Vincent A. G. O'Connor, assistant district attorney, said Levy made "certain admissions" during seven hours of questioning.

O'Connor said Levy had been associated with Salvatore Solazzo, confessed fixer of college games, and Edward Gard, former Long Island university star and one of the 32 players implicated. The Levy disclosure came a few hours after the NBA had opened its 1951-52 season with games at Rochester and Syracuse. Washington is not in the league this year.

MOST TOP GRID TEAMS FAVERED TO WIN EASILY

By ED CORRIGAN

New York, Nov. 2 (CP)—Except for Illinois which faces a rough assignment against Michigan, virtually all the top college football teams in the country are figured to fatten their averages tomorrow as the season starts into the home stretch.

The only outfit that possibly might be in for trouble other than the Illini is Baylor, which, if you want to go by the records, should have no trouble stepping on Texas Christian. But it's a Southwest conference game and they don't go by form down that way.

Baylor is the conference leader and boasts the only undefeated record in the circuit besides being No. 8 in the last weekly Associated Press poll.

Texas A and M is at Arkansas and Southern Methodist plays host to Texas in other games that will have a bearing on the race.

Hershey Gunning To Upset Warriors Here This Evening

Despite prospects of a cold evening, a large crowd is expected to turn out for the Gettysburg-Hershey high football game here this evening at 8 o'clock.

The Warriors, unbeaten but once, are riding on top of the South Penn conference and need a victory over the invading Trojans to retain their top rank.

Hershey has high hopes of pulling a surprise against the Warriors and a hotly-contested battle is anticipated.

L-TOWN JUNIOR HIGH DROPS 1ST GRID CONTEST

Littlestown's junior high school grididers dropped their first game, a 24-14 verdict, to the Waynesboro Cyclones Thursday at Waynesboro.

Waynesboro scored in the first period on a 24-yard run by Sammy Potts. In the second period Potts made a 25-yard return of a punt by Kress and then followed with a 20-yard TD scamper. Dan Wolf plunged for the point.

The Cyclones scored again in the third period when Doyle recovered a fumble in the end zone. Waynesboro took a 26-0 margin early in the last period when Root passed to Doyle for 39 yards. Root cracked the line for the point.

Littlestown came to life on the following kickoff when Kump raced back 65 yards to his pay dirt. Selby booted the first of his two extra points. A few plays later Kump passed to Shovaker for 35 yards and another six-pointer. The same pass combination clicked for the point.

Waynesboro's final score came on a 19-yard run by Potts.

Three other Big Ten games are on the card. Minnesota visits Iowa, Ohio State entertains Northwestern and Indiana plays Wisconsin at Madison.

USC Faces Army

In the Pacific Coast conference, California is figured to be a heavy choice over UCLA. Southern California, makes a cross-country trip to New York to meet weak Army.

Stanford has a date with Washington State. The Indians, unbeaten and untied after six games, are the favorites.

Tennessee, riding along at the top of the heap, despite what has turned out to be a weak schedule—primarily because the south in general has been unusually weak this year—tangies with North Carolina.

Maryland and Georgia Tech, two of the other better teams in the section, entertain foes that might well have stayed home. Missouri faces the unenviable distinction of playing Maryland, the No. 4 team in the country with a record of 5-0, while Duke, beaten twice, enters the fair of the Bulldogs, who seem determined to give Tennessee a battle for Southeastern conference honors.

Kentucky Improving

Kentucky, which finally seems to have found itself after a miserable start, plays Miami of Florida.

Princeton, the toast of the Ivy league and east in general after 18 straight conquests, plays Brown, an intra-league foe, in Tigtown. The Bears are one of the weak sisters from the Bullet camp with the announcement that Bob Eppelman and Vince Rosetti, both backs, will be ready for action after an absence due to injuries. Their return is certain to boost the stock of the Bullets.

It is almost certain the Bullets will be subjected to a concentrated aerial attack and the Bream-men are preparing accordingly. The Red Devils have three capable passers in Owen Kerland, Dick DiGuardi, a sophomore, and Wilbur Gobrecht.

Gobrecht, former Hanover high star, is also regarded as the hardest running Dickinson back.

CRYING TOWEL REALLY NEEDED

Art Lewis, the West Virginia coach, tells this one on himself. When things were going badly last year, Art came home one evening and told his wife: "Dear, you'd better start packing again. We'll be asked to move again one of these days." . . . His nine year old son, Johnny, asked when and Art disgustedly replied: "Oh, about Saturday night." . . . The following Monday Lewis heard the rest from the principal of Johnny's school. Late Friday afternoon, the principal's office door was flung open: Johnny shouted: "Go to h---" and ran away. . . . Monday morning, Johnny was in the principal's office, tears streaming down his face. . . . "What's the matter?" the principal asked sympathetically. . . . And Johnny, still fearing the worst, sputtered: "We didn't move."

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE DAY'S WORK

For many years the late Dr. William Osler was the physician to Walt Whitman, the poet. One beautiful summer afternoon they were visiting in the poet's Camden home, when suddenly the poet exclaimed: "Ah, the glory of the day's work, whether with hand or brain! I have tried To exalt the present and the real. To teach the average man the glory of his daily work or trade."

I have often turned to that recorded instance in Dr. Osler's little book "A Way of Life," and read it and re-read it. It contains so much. If we cannot gain glory from our day's work, where are we to find it? Certainly not in idleness or in a complaining of our lot, should it not be a happy one. We, in ourselves, are the architects of our own fates, as the poet Longfellow once wrote.

In my youth I heard of an interesting interview with three workmen. One was asked what he was doing. He replied that he was mixing mortar. The second man said that he was laying bricks, but the third man said he was building a Cathedral! Each one of us has his own choice. It would be well if we were all engaged in "building a Cathedral!"

The day's work is a link in the chain that completes our life activities. It is both our privilege and our opportunity to make that chain as strong a one as possible, so as to hold together the events and achievements of our life in the strongest fashion.

In the recent World Series baseball contests we had the example placed before us as to how important each and every game throughout the season was. Had every game, among the leaders, been looked upon as a crucial one, the story at the end might have been different. We should be impressed with the glory of each day's work as a crucial one.

The significance of the day's work does not lie greatest in what is earned, but in what it brings in human happiness and pleasure from the work itself.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "I Remember, I Remember."

LUTHERANS TO HOLD MEETING

The annual congregational meeting of Elias Evangelical Lutheran church will be held Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the church. The business will include the election of an elder and two deacons; the adoption of a budget, and annual reports.

Roseoe Shindeldecker and Rev. Philip Bower will attend the meeting of the western conference of the Maryland synod of the United Lutheran church, to be held at St. Benjamin's Lutheran church near Westminster, Monday, from 9:30 to 3:30 o'clock.

Thirty-two members of the Children's choir held a Halloween party Tuesday night at the Lutheran Parish house. The Chapel choir held a social following its regular rehearsal and the church council held its annual meeting in preparation for the congregational meeting.

Charles L. Sharner, in charge of repair work on the tower of the Lutheran church, reported to the church council that the work is almost completed. Part of the work is being done by Clarence Hahn.

Mrs. J. W. Houser, Mrs. William A. Frailey and Miss Rhoda Gilligan attended the meeting of the State Federation of Republican Women held in Baltimore Monday and Tuesday.

Blue Mountain orchard, owned and operated by Quinn Topper, finished picking this year's apple crop Wednesday. Packing of the 10,000 bushels will continue for several days. Mr. Topper said the yield was below normal but the quality of the fruit was almost perfect. The largest apple crop grown by Mr. Topper was in excess of 40,000 bushels in 1942.

Santa Claus Visits Doomed Boy Early

Palmyra, N. J., Nov. 2 (AP)—Santa Claus is visiting three-year-old Tommy Haring early this year. The doctors say little Tommy is suffering from leukemia, dreaded blood disease, and may die before Christmas eve.

So next Sunday the Haring home will be aglitter with colored lights and tinsel and all the magic of the Christmas season. Already a tree has been set up and gaily trimmed, and an electric train whirs around it. Two days hence more presents will be laid under its branches, and a big stocking stuffed with surprises.

That's how Tommy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haring, and his four grandparents are trying to make up for what they expect the child will miss—the splendor of shop windows, the excitement of toyland, holly hanging hospitably in windows and on doors, the caroling and the bells on Christmas eve.

Until last week, Tommy was in Philadelphia's Jefferson hospital. He received many transfusions in an effort to arrest the disease. But a few days ago the father was told little hope remained that Tommy's life might be saved.

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP)—Because of budget cuts, the air force says it is reducing "greatly" and in some cases eliminating its public information offices in the field.

An air force spokesman said it was impossible to estimate how many persons or offices would be affected. He said the department has told all major commands of funds available to them for information purposes. The steel-deck bridge at Cleve land, Ky., is 250 feet above river level.

No Better Time to Order One!

There are many motorists in our community who have reached that position in life where they feel themselves entitled to a Cadillac—and yet, for one particular reason, have postponed placing their order.

They have heard, and quite rightly so, that there is some delay in delivery of new Cadillacs. And so, they have decided not to visit us until the car can be had more readily.

To them we say—there is no better time to order a Cadillac than right now. For each day you delay is costing you its price in motoring pleasure and satisfaction!

When you stop in at our showroom, we will talk to you frankly about what you may expect as to date of delivery. And we think you may be delighted to discover that the waiting period is not so long as might be expected—for so fine a car in such great demand.

And we think you will find, too, that once we have your order, it's a wonderful, satisfying feeling to know each passing day brings your Cadillac closer at hand.

But only when that day does arrive, and you take to the highway, will you know how well worth waiting for a Cadillac is.

For only when you experience its magnificent performance for yourself—so stimulating to the spirit and so restful to the body that you actually look forward to those moments behind the wheel—will you realize how completely Cadillac stands alone.

Of course, if you have already placed your order for a Cadillac—then stand firm in your purpose!

Dealers who sell other cars are undoubtedly beseeching you to switch your preference—for the sake of immediate delivery.

But just remember: immediate delivery means not in demand. You are waiting for a Cadillac because so many wonderful people, like yourself, want no other car. And they know that their waiting will pay its rewards.

So stand firm. And be patient—for each day brings you closer to your heart's desire.

8 DIE ON FIRST DAY OF SMALL GAME HUNTING

Gettysburg, Nov. 2 (P) — The 1951 small game hunting season moved into its second day today with two persons dead of gunshot wounds and six others of heart attacks while in woods and fields.

The gunshot wounds yesterday were 10-year-old Burnell Joseph Smith of New Oxford, Adams county, accidentally shot by his uncle, Ursus B. Kline, 39 of Brandon, Berks county.

Victims of heart attacks were Robert G. Bullock, a 72-year-old retired farmer, near his home at Stormstown, Centre county; Clayton Frey, 73, of Elizabethtown; Daniel Aleman, 65, of Middletown; Frank Kyner, 60, a farmer near Chambersburg, and two police officers, Cpl. C. Fred Rugh, 43, state policeman stationed at Greensburg, and John W. Henry, 69, Pittsman patrolman.

Many Wounded

Numerous other persons were wounded as the month-long season opened on rabbits, squirrels, ring-neck pheasants, grouse and turkeys.

The Smith boy was accidentally shot in the back by his uncle, Andrew Smith. The boy's father, James Arnold Smith also was on the hunting trip. The boy was pronounced dead on arrival at Hanover hospital.

State police said Kline was hunting with a 14-year-old boy who fell and accidentally discharged his shotgun. Kline was dead on admission to St. Joseph's hospital, Reading.

Frey died of a heart attack after killing pheasant in a field several miles north of Elizabethtown. The body of Aleman was found by his wife in his automobile parked near his home. Mrs. Aleman said she made the discovery after he had failed to return promptly from a hunting expedition.

Rugh, regarded as one of the top marksmen in the state police, was struck near Hannastown, Westmoreland county. He had been with the state police since 1933 with time out to serve as a pilot in the U.S. air force in World War Two. Henry, the fourth heart victim, collapsed in another part of Westmoreland county while hunting. He was pronounced dead on arrival at a Pittsburgh hospital.

Mrs. Wickie was president from 1947 through 1950. In the years during which this "dream" was realized "Each year we set up a new goal for that year toward the $50,000 we sought for the music department, only to find we had surpassed our goal by $4,000." She paid tribute to the officers and members of the league for their efforts.

Dr. Hanson pointed out that "we are engaged, not in a single, isolated task, but in the job of building on this campus a great institution."

The college choir, under the direction of Prof. Wagmild, presented a selection, and the keys to the new music department were presented to President Hanson by J. Alfred Hammie, York, the building's architect. Dr. Hanson in turn presented the keys to Mrs. Eckert, who gave them to Prof. Wagmild. Following the dedication prayer and the doxology, the service closed with the benediction by Dr. Hanson.

LEAGUE WOMEN

We are confused by the multiplicity of our wants but our needs remain the same—quiet hearts, ready minds and willing hands. Quiet hearts trust in God, ready minds to accept God and to learn more of Him, and willing hands to do God's work here.

We are fortunate to be part of a college which proudly is Christian.

America from time to today is the college. For a generation or two moral values spiritual values have not been so important in higher education. The next 20 years will be marked by an entirely new approach—a new kind of education stressing the spiritual values.

Mrs. Herm. W. A. Hanson, president of the Womans League since 1929 to 1942 and one of the first officers of the Womans League, was presented with a gift of flowers by the group.

Mrs. Rodger Smith, chairwoman,

Stolen Car Is Returned With Thanks

A salesman answered the telephone at the agency and heard a voice say:

"I took your Cadillac last year and just brought it back. It's parked in front of your building, but doesn't have any anti-freeze in it. You had better put some in. It might freeze up."

The caller hung up after a cheery "Thanks a lot."

The car was in good condition in fact. Detective James Reeves said, it had been repainted, the engine had been steam cleaned and the interior had been cleaned recently.

The speedometer showed it had been driven 30,000 miles.

TOURING HOCKEY

(Continued from Page 1) Middle Atlantic states during the last four and a half weeks, will spend several weeks in playing top-ranking teams in the Washington-Richmond area and then will return to Boston for the national field hockey tournament on Thanksgiving Day.

Members of the touring team are all members of district winning teams in Scotland from which the best were selected for the trip. Most are physical education teachers in Scottish schools.

Miss Doris Inches of Edinburgh heads the team as manager. Miss Jean Torrance also of Edinburgh, is captain with Miss Eileen Hyndman as vice captain. Other members of the team during the exhibition this afternoon were Miss Morna Clyde, Mrs. Molle Mackay, Dr. Agnes McGregor, Miss Louise Kerr, Miss Mary Gold Watson, Miss Nancy Soutar, Miss Margo Stewart, Miss Sheenah Marshall and Miss Janet Smallwood. Others with the team included Miss Margaret Gibson and Miss Isabel Voigt. Two members of the team remained at Lock Haven to coach a girl's hockey team there.

Mrs. Grace Kenney, physical education instructor for Gettysburg, and Miss Inches were officials for the exhibition.

American habits of "warming up" interested the Scottish visitors. After Gettysburg and Lebanon Valley teams completed their "warm-up" on the field before the exhibitions, the players ran around the outside of the field in a group.

Dinner Guests

The Scottish players asked, "What are they doing?" And upon being told, Captain Torrance laughingly replied, "If we did that none of us would have strength enough to play."

Mrs. Ernestine J. Smith, physical education teacher at Lebanon Valley, was in charge of the group from that college. Elaine Barron, of Verona, N. J., and Libby Roper, Dover, Del., are co-captains of the Lebanon Valley team.

Thursday evening the members of the Scottish team, Miss Grace Kenney, Miss Sue Hunsberger, C. E. Bilheimer and Robert B. Rau were guests of Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college, at a dinner at Graeffenberg inn.

An explosives expert from the Letterkenny ordnance depot will be invited to speak at the December meeting. Arrangements will be made by Donald G. Jacobs, Gettysburg fire chief.

Refreshments were served following the meeting of the Arendtsville fire company.

He outlined the complete physical examination given to the school youngsters. Each child is examined every two years during his school days.

Immunization programs for children are making communities "epidemic-proof," he added. If 50 percent of the members of a community are immunized an epidemic cannot develop, he said. Through immunization of children against various diseases, the community is rapidly reaching that state of having at least 50 percent of its members immunized, the speaker declared.

Defective Teeth

The most prevalent defect found in the examinations are of the teeth, he added. The second leading defect is posture, next is tonsils, fourth bad vision and fifth heart murmurs.

Mrs. James R. Oyler, chairman of the program committee introduced the speaker.

Plans for a Christmas party for the children of the school were discussed as were further details of the bazaar to be held by the Mothers club at the school November 16 and 17. Mrs. Joseph Rosensteel and Mrs. Lawrence Eckert, co-chairmen, said the bazaar will be held from 2 to 9 p.m. on each of the days in the school cafeteria.

Features of the bazaar will be a fancy work table cloths, actions, cake and candy tables, a fish pond and refreshments. Mrs. Julian Estep, president of the club, who presided, reported she would appoint the committee for the children's Christmas party at a later date. Named as the committee to serve breakfast to the children who attended Holy Communion this morning at the church were Mrs. Robert Derck, Mrs. Richard Codori, Mrs. Robert Kenworthy and Mrs. William Jacobs.

Mrs. Charles Jacobs was named chairman for the next meeting with Mrs. Robert Derck and Mrs. Harold Culp as members of the committee.

Urge Civil Service For Revenue Collectors

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP) — The White House announced Thursday President Truman will recommend to Congress that collectors of internal revenue be brought under Civil Service.

The announcement was made after Frank E. McKinney, Indianapolis banker and the new Democratic chairman recommended such a step to the President.

McKinney in a letter said earlier the President had asked him to help see that the federal service "be maintained at the highest standard."

The acceptance by Moses of God's call to a significant task and the performance of it, is a great event in history. But God is still calling men and women to accept responsibilities. In every age situations arise did he have the self-confidence of earlier years. He made excuses all of which were answered and put aside. "Come now therefore, and I will send thee unto Pharaoh," came the Divine command.

Two tasks lay before Moses. The one was to convince the Hebrews that he was really sent to them by God; the other was to induce Pharaoh to let the Israelites leave his country. The Hebrew people would naturally ask, "What is his name?" That might raise a question in theology. But the answer given Moses was to tell them that "I am." That means briefly that God is a Person—real, self-existing—and not made out of the fanciful thoughts of human beings. The voice from the bush further said, "Tell the children of Israel that He is the same God who made promises to your fathers—Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. This was the first big task—to assure the people that he, Moses, had a genuine call. The other was to persuade the proud Pharaoh to "let his people go."

The acceptance by Moses of God's call to a significant task and the performance of it, is a great event in history. But God is still calling men and women to accept responsibilities. In every age situations arise where the unfolding of the Divine plan requires the services of devoted men and women. God depends on the cooperation, with Him, of consecrated people. Working together with God may require sacrifice and hardship, as it did of Moses, but a fully consecrated life can be lived in no better way.

Questions And Answers

- 1 How was Moses trained for leadership?
- 2 What effect had suffering on the Hebrews?
- 3 What two tasks confronted Moses?
- 4 How does God work?
- 5 Does God call men today?

- 1 As a prince and shepherd
- 2 It drove them to God for help.
- 3 Get the Hebrews to accept him as leader; secure permission from Pharaoh to let them leave.

TRUMAN MAY ASK "IKE" ABOUT HIS "AVAILABILITY"

Washington, Nov. 2 (P) — Next Monday's meeting between President Truman and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will provide the chief executive opportunity to pose a question of administrative as well as political importance to him.

Will Eisenhower leave his post of supreme commander of Allied powers in Europe to seek a presidential nomination in 1952?

If so, the President undoubtedly would like to know that now so he can advise the other member nations of the North Atlantic treaty organization, perhaps privately they should begin thinking about some- one to fill the job.

May Want Briton

Eisenhower was appointed to the supreme command early this year at the request of the other 11 members of the NATO. He was picked essentially because of his fame and personality while supreme commander of Allied forces in World War II, not primarily because he was an American.

Whether the European members of NATO would want another American commander, like Gen. Omar Bradley now chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, remains to be seen.

Winston Churchill is back as prime minister of Britain. Before he was returned he had voiced some outspoken comment when the proposal was made to give a supreme commander in the Mediterranean to an American and not to a Briton. It is conceivable that he might still be of that mind if the question of a new supreme commander of Western forces arose. Perhaps the pressure might turn toward one of Britain's own famous World War II military chiefs, like Viscount Montgomery, the testy but battle-wise field marshal of the empire's forces in North Africa and Europe.

News To Pentagon

Announcement that Eisenhower would be in the capital Monday and Tuesday produced some surprise and puzzlement. White House Secretary Joseph Short said the general was making the flying trip at the suggestion of Mr. Truman.

This seemed fully accurate. It was learned that the first indication the Pentagon had of the plan was when the President informed military officials that Eisenhower would come to Washington for conferences.

Short said Eisenhower's talks while here — with the President, State Department and defense officials — would cover matters affecting the supreme Allied command of the North Atlantic defense setup.

The Rev. G. Howard Koons, pastor of Christ Evangelical and Reformed church, was the guest speaker at the first November meeting of the Littlestown Lions club Thursday evening in the social hall of St. John's Lutheran church, near town, when the club entertained the Lions of Zone A, District 14-C. The Rev. Mr. Koons addressed the club members and their guests on the subject "Civic Pride." A roast chicken dinner was provided by Richard Wolfe, who presided at the piano. The club president, Clayton L. Evans, presided. The program was in charge of the Civic Improvement committee headed by Rev. Kenneth D. James.

A meeting of Zone A, District 14-C, followed with John R. Bloom, chairman of the zone, in charge. Deputy District Governor Cyrus Bucher, Biglerville, attended. The following presidents and secretaries of the clubs within the district were present: Lions Shillito and Miller, Biglerville; Taylor and Hollinger, East Berlin, and George and Cassell, New Oxford. It was announced that the Taneytown Lions club will sponsor an amateur show on Tuesday, November 13, and local residents are invited to enter. They may register with Kermit B. Reid. The winner will receive an audition to the Ted Mack Original Amateur Hour in New York city.

It was also announced that Elmer Barnes, district governor, will visit the local club on December 20. The next regular meeting of the Lions will be held Thursday, November 15, 7 p.m., at Bankert's restaurant South Queen street. The program will be in charge of the Boys and Girls committee composed of Edgar A. Wolfe, Garnet E. Schellhase and Robert J. Stonerifer.

Approximately 90 were in attendance at the Halloween party held by the King's Daughters Sunday school class of Christ Evangelical Reformed church Wednesday evening in the church grove parish house. A grand march was held with those who were masked and in costume participating. Prizes were awarded for the following: Prettiest dressed, Janet Sell; funniest costume, John Koons, and most original outfit, Dean Sell. Games were played and prizes were given. The game session was in charge of Mrs. Erwin A. Robert and Mrs. Kenneth Olinger. Refreshments, in keeping with the Halloween season, were served to those present by the October committee composed of Mrs. Clair Markle, Mrs. Harry C. Wildasin, Mrs. W. Raymond Warner, Mrs. Ralph I. Unger and Mrs. Stanley R. Sell.

The business meeting of the King's Daughters class was omitted Wednesday evening. The next regular meeting of the class will be held Wednesday, November 28, at the Littlestown Girl Scout Troop No. 14. Mrs. LeRoy Helwig and Miss Harriet Badders, leaders, met Thursday evening at the Alpha engine house. The meeting was in charge of the president, Patricia Long, and opened with the Girl Scout promise repeated by the group, the flag salute, and the group singing of "America." Roll call was held by the treasurer, Darla Lemmon. The girls decided to make and sell home made cookies for funds for troop activities. The scouts will sell the cookies door-to-door on Friday, November 9. The meeting closed with tape and the Girl Scout handshake. The next meeting of Troop No. 14 will be held next Thursday evening.
